Sat., April 22 12:30-3:00 Amazing Earth Day Celebration!

Join us at the Old Stone House Museum’s Grammar School for an open studio, creating recycled arts projects. We will have boxes of all shapes and sizes, old paints and markers, rolls of masking tape, glue guns, and other items you can’t even imagine without entering our studio space. Things labeled as “trash” will be ready for your use. Bring your innovative ideas, engineering know how and creative crafting skills. We will build, stack, connect, and create art and make fun objects. A few outdoor environmental games will round out our fun time together as we celebrate and honor the earth! Registration required by contacting outreach@oldstonehousemuseum.org $6.00 kids/adults no cost
See attached flier for the remainder of our spring offerings.

Catamount Arts has very generously offered a $2.00 discount per circus ticket for families on the roster for one of our April Children’s Enrichment Classes - Something from Nothing and our Amazing Earth Day Celebration!
